Educational Options for Learning Support Suspension from Georgia Perimeter College

Students who are suspended from Georgia Perimeter College and all University System of Georgia institutions for three years because they have not completed a Learning Support area in three attempts or twelve semester hours may attend a technical college, a private college, or a college out-of-state.

After 3 Year Suspension
If the student sits out of college for the full three-year period of the suspension and then returns to GPC, he or she will take the Compass placement test in the area of the suspension and all other Learning Support areas that have not been exempted or exited previously. If the student passes the placement test in an area, he or she will be exited from Learning Support in that area. If the student does not pass the placement test in an area, he or she must take the required Learning Support classes in that area.

Conditions for Early Return
Students may return to GPC before the end of the three-year suspension if both of the following conditions are met:

- The student must earn 30 semester hours of acceptable transfer credit from an accredited technical college*, a private college, or an out-of-state college, including college-level credit in the area of the suspension. If the area of suspension is English or Reading, the student must have transfer credit for ENGL 1101 or its equivalent. If the area of suspension is Mathematics, the student must have transfer credit for MATH 1101 or MATH 1111 or higher mathematics course.
- The student attending an accredited technical college* must bring a letter stating that he or she has scored a passing score on either Compass or Asset at the technical college in the area of the suspension. The student may need to specially request this test if it is not required at the technical college.
  - In English, the passing scores are 60 for Compass and 42 for Asset.
  - In Mathematics, the passing scores are 37 for Compass and 42 for Asset.
  - In Reading, the passing scores are 74 for Compass and 41 for Asset.
