DYSTOPIAN FUTURES NOW

ANXIETY IN AN AGE OF UNCERTAINTY

Dystopian themes in works such as Divergent, The Hunger Games, and The Maze Runner portray dark, dehumanizing, and terrifying possibilities for our future.

Hank Eidson, Associate Professor of English, and Dr. Eric Morton, Assistant Professor of Philosophy, will explore why these dystopian worlds have become a major part of our popular culture over the past few years and why the idea of a dystopian future continues to fascinate audiences today.
