SPELLING RULES

1. A word is made up of its root, the base to which prefixes (beginnings) and suffixes (endings) are added. Usually, when adding a prefix or suffix to a word, spell the word as it is and then add the prefix or suffix.

   - dis + satisfy = dissatisfy (keep the double s)
   - mis + spell = misspell
   - mean + ness = meanness (keep the double n)
   - reason + able = reasonable
   - star + s = stars

2. Words ending in -ch, -sh, -ss, -z, or -x, usually add -es to form the plural of the noun or third person singular of the verb.

   - dress becomes dresses
   - wish becomes wishes
   - church becomes churches

   a. When there is a consonant in front of y, change y to i before adding es.
      - berry becomes berries
      - bury becomes buries
      - empty becomes emptiness
      - try becomes tries

   EXCEPTION: Do not change y to i when the ending begins with i or when a proper name ends in y.
      - study becomes studying
      - Kelly becomes Kelys

   b. When a one-syllable word ends in a single consonant with a single short vowel sound in front of it, double the final consonant before adding an ending that begins with a vowel (-ed, -ing, -age, -ish, -er, -ar and -y).
      - win becomes winning, winner
      - man becomes mannish
      - swim becomes swimmer, swimming

   c. In words of more than one syllable, only double the consonant if the accent is on the final syllable.
      - begin becomes beginning
      - prefer becomes preferred
      - occur becomes occurring
      - omit becomes omitted

   EXCEPTION: benefit becomes benefited

   d. When a word ends with a silent e, drop the e before adding an ending which starts with a vowel.
      - come becomes coming
      - lose becomes losing

   Note: The final e usually indicates that the preceding vowel is a long vowel. Note the differences in pronunciation in the list below:
      - hop/hopping but hope/hoping
      - rat/ratting but rate/rating
e. When making a plural out of a noun ending in \textit{fe}, change the \textit{f} to \textit{v} before adding \textit{s}:

- \textit{life} becomes \textit{lives}
- \textit{half} becomes \textit{halves}
- \textit{thief} becomes \textit{thieves}

\textbf{EXCEPTION}: The plural of \textit{belief} is \textit{beliefs}.

3. Deciding on \textit{ei} or \textit{ie}:
   a. \textit{i} before \textit{e}

      \begin{tabular}{ll}
      believe & view \\ friend & field \\
      chief & siege \\ \end{tabular}

   b. Except after \textit{e}

      \begin{tabular}{ll}
      deceive & freight \\ receipt & deceit \\ \end{tabular}

   c. Or when sounded like “\textit{a}” as in \textit{neighbor} and \textit{weigh}:

      \begin{tabular}{ll}
      eight & freight \\ reign & veil \\ \end{tabular}

   d. Other exceptions to watch for:

      \begin{tabular}{ll}
      either & neither \\ leisure & seize \\ \end{tabular}

\textbf{ADDITIONAL SPELLING HINTS}
